LOCAL BRIEFS.

Yesterday was a bad day for May-daying.

Nothing done at the Mayor's Court yesterday.

Granville Superior Court adjourned
yesterday.

The approaching municipal election excites little or no interest.

A colored Sunday School west Maying in Capital Square yesterday.

Captain E. A. Thorne, a prominent farmer of Halifax county, is in our city.

May-dayers returned to the city last evening slightly damp, but otherwise swe and sound.

Handy Lockhart, colored, desires us to say that he will not allow his name to be used as an independent candidate for a Eastern Ward.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather yesterday, Mr. W. H. Hick's landscape photographer took two beautiful views of the Capitol, 18x22 inches. He will sketch the asylums to-day.

Branch H. Morrison, the son of Senator Morrison, is considered the most sensible youth at Trinity. Wilmington Star.

What is the name? "What's in a name?" Senator Morrison, who is he?

The building, opposite the new Barringer building, on the corner of Wilmington and Hargett streets, will soon be finished. We learn that Messrs.
Rogers & H. H. H. has rented it for a liquor store and will occupy it as soon as completed.

One of the most attractive signs on Exchange Place, is that of the clever firm of Grocers and Commission Merchants, Messrs. Wyatt, Green & Co. It is a full grown, well shaped hog, with the name, etc., of the firm.

Rev. R. H. Whitaker, the editor of the Friend of Temperance, and the leading Temperance advocate of North Carolina, is in attendance upon the State Council of the Friends of Temperance of South Carolina in session at Columbia.

The ground has been broken for the large Wholesale Grocery and Commission House of Messrs. Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas, opposite Metropolitan Hall on Fayetteville street. This will be, when completed, one of the largest buildings in the city, as the store will front both on Fayetteville and Salisbury streets, extending through an entire square.

An exchange tells of a woman who sent her husband to buy a jug of molasses. He got drunk and fetched home the jug filled with whiskey. She took it up, smelt, set it back, and then saying herself, arms akimbo and eyes flushing, she exclaimed, "what's the difference?" The old man smiled and winking pleasantly, and waving his hand propitiatingly, exclaimed, "Them's they!" He is now convalescent, but the jug is hopelessly damaged.

VARIETIES.—The Greensboro Patriot thus speaks of a Raleigh house:

"One of the largest establishments in Raleigh is the Variety Store of Nat. L.
Brown, on Fayetteville street. His house is crowded with goods, and there is nothing in the variety line that escapes his attention. He never permits his stock to run down, but replenishes as he sells and is always ready to supply any demand that may be made on him."

COMING.—The following named criminals will come to the Penitentiary from Granville county, convicted and sentenced at the late term of Granville Superior Court. His Honor, Judge Albion, presiding. John Day, 5 years for larceny; St. Moss, 10 years for larceny and house burning; Henry Qualls, 10 years for larceny; Simon Daniel, 5 years for larceny; Sam Taylor, 5 years for larceny.

RALEIGH, N. C. FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 2, 1873.

NO. 57.

EXCURSION OF THE RALEIGH BAPTIST

SUNDAY SCHOOL TO HAYWOOD—A BEAUTIFUL MAY QUEEN CEREMONY—

A CLOUDY DAY BUT A GOOD TIME.

The excursion of this school to Haywood, Chatham county, yesterday came off with no little eclat. Its pleasures were enjoyed by both old and young, and so heartily were they entered into by the participants that good feeling and happy faces more than made up for the absence of the sun which was hidden by angry clouds. As per programme, the pupils and teachers of the school assembled at the Church at 6:30 a. m., and formed for the march to the depot to take the train. At 7:30 the Chief Marshal, Major A. M. Lewis, gave the word of command, and the procession moved on to the place of em-barcation. Never has our little city witnessed such a large turnout of sunday school children, that is, by one denomination. While the front was considerably below the court house, the rear had not passed through the south gate of the Capitol.

At the depot a long train of confortable cars were found in readiness, under the charge of Captain Dallas Ward, the popular and gentlemanly conductor of the Raleigh & Gaston R. R. Through the exertions of the Marshals and their Assistants, the large crowd were seated without any confusion, and at 8 o'clock the whistle of engine No. 3, run by that skillful engineer Mr. Mortimer Flemming, sounded its note of warning and in a moment we were speeding on the way to Haywood—the Haywood which only so narrowly escaped greatness.

Here it will not be inappropriate to mention the historical fact that Haywood once came within one vote of winning from Raleigh, the honor of being the Capital of the State. Raleigh was saved by the vote of Hon. Burton Crane, of Salisbury.

The location of the University of the State at this point was seriously contemplated at one time. Some sixty years ago the late Judge A. D.
Murphy and David McBane succeeded in getting the Legislature to appropriate $100,000 to the Cape Fear Deepwater Navigation Company scheme, and conceived the idea of making Haywood, which is situated at the junction of the Haw and Deep rivers forming the Cape Fear, a city. The place was regularly laid out into town lots, and through the representations and influence of these gentlemen purchasers were not lacking. Buildings sprung up in all directions, and a glorious future seemed opened up for Haywood.
But, alas! for human foresight! The plans for the navigation of the river failed, parties who had built warehouses, storehouses and residences became dissatisfied with their investments and went so far as to pull them down and remove the timbers to other localities, and Haywood in a short time relapsed into its pristine insignificance.
But to the excursion.

After a pleasant run of nearly two hours Haywood was reached, and dis-embarking the excursionists were conducted to the beautiful Academy grove where the feature of the day came off, the

CROWNING OF THE MAY QUEEN.

How shall we describe the beautiful scene? We confess our utter inability to do so adequately. To do it creditably requires some of the genius of poetry.
A May pole beautifully decorated, with a throne for the Queen at its base, was erected in the prettiest part of the grove and soon the large crowd formed a circle around, eagerly awaiting the appearance of the lovely Queen and the royal party. Soon strains of soft music heralded the May Queen and her attendants. Would we were an adept at the art of word-painting that we might now pay fitting homage to the lovely little Queen, Miss Minnie Hick.
Her lovely young lace, sylph-like dress,
with a throne for the Queen at its base,
was erected in the prettiest part of the
a circle around, eagerly awaiting the appearance of the lovely Queen and the royal party. Soon strains of soft music
heralded the May Queen and her at-
lovely little Queen, Miss Minnie Hick.

Unexpectably we are called upon to abridge this article, and therefore it is impossible to describe the details of the ceremony. We can give only the order in which the royal party approached the throne, which was as follows:

Flower Girls and Boys.

Scout Bearers, Tom Pescud,

Crown Bearer, Laurie Pritchard,

Queen's attendant, Miss Mary Lewis,

Queen and Crowners, Robt. Williamson.

ATTENDANTS.

Charlie Holden and Pattie Upchurch, Fabius Briggs and Maggie Williams,

James Williamson and Lula Heck, Charles Lewis and Fannie Heck, Johnnie Hicks and Annie Tomlinson, Ruffia Litchford and Mary Hicks,

William Andrews and Rosa Neathery, Jimmie Justice and Beulah Holden, Johnnie Lewis and Annie Williams,

George Andrews and Nannie Armstrong.

Willie Hick and Bessie Litchford, Willie Hick and Mary Belvin, Allen Fleming and Minnie Gorman.

During the crowning several appropriate songs were rendered. Mrs. W. H.
Dodd presiding at the organ.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies neat and appropriate remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Pritchard, Prof.
Willie J. Palmer, Mr. Edgar, of Canada, and W. H. Pace. Dinner was soon after announced and enjoyed. Just as the excursionists were getting on the train to return home the long threatened rain commenced and when the depot in this city was reached it was pouring.

The managers and marshals of the excursion deserve much credit for the good order maintained and the systematic manner in which everything was carried out.

The Citizens' Cornet Band was along, and was the recipient of much compliment upon its rapid improvement.

If space permitted, we should have something to say of the signs of enterprise and industry along the line of the Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line R. R.

Syme, our news editor and associate localizer, May dayed with the Baptist Sunday School at Haywood's yesterday.
His report will be found in another column.

OXFORD ITEMS.—Our Oxford correspondent under date of yesterday, sends us the following items of interest from his section:

A few nights ago, while Mr. James T.
Hunt was at supper, a daring robbery was committed by a thief or thieves who entered the lumber house adjacent to his store and purloined therefrom some bacon, flour and other articles.

The concert at the Osborn House on Tuesday evening by the ladies of Oxford was a most decided success. Those present were at a loss to determine whether the refreshments in the shape of ice cream and cake, prepared for the occasion, were the more refreshing, or the music by which they were entertained. The purpose of the entertainment was to raise funds for the North Carolina Orphan Asylum, and resulted in the realization of over one hundred dollars for that laudable object. Gen. Cox, the popular Solicitor of this district, contributed fifty dollars for the benefit of the Asylum. Another accession of 4 inmates has just arrived, swelling the whole number to forty.
We trust the liberality of the people of the State will increase in a ratio commensurate with the numerical strength of the Institution.

Judge Albertson is still holding Court here. His bearing on the bench is marked by impartiality, and he commands by his courtesy the respect of the people and the bar.

Cyrus Mass, colored, charged with various offenses, has been sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

Sam Lyon, colored, an accomplice of Mass in crime, has been sentenced to five years in that hospitable abode.

Jack Day, convicted of stealing beef from the late Daniel A. Paschall, was sentenced to the Penitentiary for five years.

Sam'l Daniel, colored, who took Mr.
John W. Pittard's horse under circumstances heretofore detailed in the News, from the lot in rear of Henderson Hunt & Co's store, has also been assigned gratuitous lodging in the Penitentiary for five years.

And last but not least, Charnier Towns, another colored person, formerly a County Commissioner, has been sentenced to four months imprisonment in jail and adjudged to pay a fine of three hundred dollars, having been convicted on the charge of buying stolen tobacco, knowing it to have been stolen.

It is needless to add that Messrs. Cox and Busbee are discharging their duties as prosecuting officers in a most efficient manner.

THE PENITENTIARY.—We visited for the first time since the inauguration of the new Board of Directors of the Penitentiary that Institution yesterday, and was shown around and through the premises by Jno. R. Harrison, who as one of the Directors devotes nearly his entire time to its management. We were much pleased with all we saw, and can testify that as far as appearances witness that the new management is maintaining the high standard of their worthy predecessors.

Capt. Thompson, the Warden, is no new hand at the bellows, and there is no room to doubt but that the management of the Institution in his hands will redound to his and the State's credit.

We observed many new improvements going on, the building of tin and sheet iron manufactory, new rooms for the female convicts; needed improvements to the cells, and a general cleaning up and overhauling in every department.

The new Board has recently purchased from Mr. Boylan one and one-third acres of land adjoining that portion of the grounds wherein the quarry is situated, which will enable them to work the quarry with better results, and obtain a sufficiency of work for all purposes. The stockade will be extended so as to take in this new purchase.

The wall known as the "Hicks" wall is now completed to nearly the terminus to the Eastern line. Mr. Hicks the architect, has raised for himself a monument in the building of the wall that will last through ages. There is no structure in North Carolina that will compare with it, either in its glorious proportions or the workmanlike style in which it has been executed.

There are now about four hundred convicts in the Penitentiary, all able bodied men and women and a plenty of work for at least four hundred more.
We only saw six cases in the Hospital none of which were dangerously ill, and never was the sanitary condition of the Institution better.

We left the grounds satisfied that if this new broom continues to sweep as clean as no one will have occasion to grumble at the management of the Institution, though it could have been in better hands.

LIGHT! LIGHT!!—Gas consumers would do well to go to the Yarbrough House and examine the Virginia Carbo-Hydrogen Gas Machine, which manufactures a beautiful gas light at a cost less than $2.50 per thousand. Capt.
C. S. Bailey, the agent of the company, had the Yarbrough sitting room lit up with the gas light night, and all that saw it pronounced it a superior article to our $7 gas. Persons interested (and who are not) should go and see this new improvement. Capt. Bailey will give all information concerning cost, manufacture, etc. It can be used for lighting hotels, factories, churches, dwellings, stores and other buildings, and to be perfectly safe.

POSTPONED.—Owing to the exceeding inclement weather last evening, our citizens were debarred the pleasure of hearing the lecture of Capt. J. Baron Hope, on the "Press and Printer's Devil." If the many friends of Capt. Hope in the city can prevail upon him to remain till to-night, an announcement through hand bills will be made.

THE EDITOR OF THE BIBLICAL

RECORDER IN A NEW ROLE.—In the following, which we would have published sometime ago, but for a trembling fear and dread of the hero of the story whose trenchant pen is too formidable to battle against, we shall carefully avoid dates and names, as "truth hurts."

Brother Mills, the editor of the Biblical Recorder, of this city, the organ of the Baptist Church of the State, attends at the proper season all the Associations that he can reach, in order to report the proceedings, &c. Last fall he visited the extreme Western portion of North Carolina to attend the regular

River Baptist Association. The section was rather thinly populated, and the brethren in attendance somewhat numerous; the natives were that high and noble class of our citizens, who made no ostentatious show of palatial residences, but in their neat, comfortable and comely double story houses extended the hospitality of true and genuine that the highest potentate on earth might relish with more real pleasure than all the marble walls, carved fronts, frescoed ceilings, and sumptuous living could give.

Brother Mills had the good fortune on this occasion to stop with a kind hearted old brother, who had also taken in four Ministers with their wives.

There were only four rooms to the building, which would leave only two for company with a tight stretch at that.

After supper the first night, the entire company were gathered together in the chamber room of the family which served on this occasion as the general sitting-room. Evening prayers were said, after which the four ladies left the room accompanied by the lady of the house. After the lapse of an half an hour, during which time Bro. Mills entertained the Ministers with the present and future prospects of the Church, Wake Forest College, Baptists, &c., &c., so interesting to him that he was unconscious of the movements going on, the gentleman of the house was summoned by his better half to the passage. (Bro. Mills did not even see this.)

Soon the old gentleman returned with a candle in hand and said, "brethren, you that are married men, follow me." Bro. Mills ran on this line, and of course obeyed the direction, and without even a cessation of his tongue, followed the old gentleman with the candle, the four brethren following him to a large room upstairs with a bed in each corner. In surveying the situation Bro. Mills discovered in the bed he first saw the fill of a nightcap just over one eye that was peeping out, and a finger energetically beckoning to one of the brethren just in his rear. As he turned to look elsewhere in the room the general dodging under the bed clothes formally reminded him of terms "drapping" in a laze.

If Brother Mills had retreated in good order just at this trying crisis the point of our joke would be lost, but not so.
It was a scene sufficient to bewilder even him, and while struggling to recover himself, in order to explain his mistake, the old gentleman advanced to the door, and saying "well, brethren, you know where your wives are," immediately blew out the candle, leaving Brother Mills standing in the centre of the room.

Here our story ends; what became of Brother Mills, or how he got out of that room, we don't know.— Suffice it to say, that in this narrative we have not even drawn on our imagination for the first fact.

In leaving the subject we will re-state that nothing but fear has kept this story back so long, but as the deed is done, and we can't take it back, now in the language of a Representative of a good old Democratic county, in the Legislature of 1870, when he voted for the "Convention bill," "we ask the prayers of the congregation in our behalf."

THE FIREMEN'S PARADE.—The parade of the several colored fire companies through the streets yesterday served to allay the excitement occasioned by the absence of a large number of our citizens out on May-day excursions and pic-nics.

Three companies were in the procession and a fine looking body of colored firemen cannot be found in any city North or South. The citizens of Raleigh have cause to be proud of their colored firemen as their thorough appearance has often shown.

Last night the Buckshot Company, No. 1, celebrated their first anniversary at Metropolitan Hall. Quite a number of our prominent citizens attended and we learn everything passed off well and pleasantly.

MAJOR BINGHAM'S LECTURE TO-NIGHT.—Let all remember that Major Bingham's whose reputation as a public lecturer, is too well known to require comment from us, lectures to-night at Peace Institute on the Anglo Saxon race. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

CAPT. E. C. WOODSON.

Dear Sir: The proposition in regard to Congleton's Vegetable Salve as stated in main true, but I desire to put it in a more tangible form, so every one may understand it. It is this, I prepare two size larger box for $1, holding six times as much as a small box.

I propose that for every dollar sent to me

THE PROPOSITION TO FORM A STATE FERTILIZER COMPANY.

We are in receipt of a circular proposing to form a company to be known as the North Carolina Fertilizing Company, the object of which is to organize an association of farmers and other leading citizens in every portion of the State, for the purpose of keeping at home the large amount of money sent annually abroad for the purchase of Guano and other fertilizers. To do this, it is proposed to raise a stock company, consisting of two hundred farmers, mechanics and leading business men generally who are favorable to the enterprise, to manufacture an article of Guano of their own, equal to any in the market, and thus to keep in circulation in our own State the millions of dollars that leave North Carolina every year to be invested in fertilizers. All the stock is to be owned by North Carolinians. The principal place of business is to be in this State. All the profits accruing from the business are to be reaped by the stockholders, while the farmers of the State will be furnished at a moderate price a first-class fertilizer.

It is proposed to locate the factory in Baltimore for the following reasons:

1st. It must be where the crude goods are being offered daily on the market, in order to obtain them at the very lowest price.

2d. There is a heavy loss of crude goods during the making of a Super-Phosphate, the first stage in manufacturing Guano; and we would have to pay freight on this loss if we brought crude goods into the State to manufacture.

3d. And most important, the freight on carbide of acid into the State, the loss by breakage and freight on the empty carboys back to the acid chambers in Baltimore, would be a handsome profit in itself.

4th. As we will have a local trade, it will be necessary for us to make even a better article than any offered in the State, in order to hold the trade, so that we must take advantage of every favorable point.

5th. If the Guano is manufactured in the State, for instance at Greensboro or Raleigh, we would have to pay freight on crude goods into the State, and if an order is received from Greenville or Warren county, we would have to pay back freight. Or it might be received from Enfield, the same item of two freight would occur. While from Baltimore, there would be but one freight, and with the benefit of through rates instead of local.

There can be no objection to manufacturing the article in Baltimore, provided it can be done more cheaply than in North Carolina and the advantages from manufacturing in the State, namely, keeping the money at home, shall ensure to the benefit of our own people.

We have no data at hand by which we can estimate the number of tons of Guano that are annually consumed in North Carolina. In some counties the use is universal, while in others, especially in the extreme Western part of the State, Guanos are almost unknown. If the estimate of the Baltimore Advance be correct, to wit, fifty thousand tons, then the people of the State expend three millions of dollars annually in the purchase of this article.

Now if the North Carolina Fertilizer Company is organized and sustained by our farmers, we will be able to retain this vast quantity of circulating medium at home.

The plan appears to us to be feasible, and if successfully prosecuted, will redound to the interest of all classes of our citizens; but especially to the farming community.

We are pleased to learn that many prominent farmers in the Eastern part of the State have approved of the proposition to form a fertilizer company, which is to consist of two hundred stockholders. No one is allowed to take more than one share of stock, each share to be worth one thousand dollars—thus making a capital of $200,000 to begin with. Of this share one-half is to be paid cash, and the note of the shareholder is to be given for the other half.

The circular before us states that nearly one-half of the stock has already been subscribed, and the names of the gentlemen on the list give us a guarantee that the Company will be well conducted.

We have already in this State one Guano Company, the Nevassa, of Wilmington, which we understand has more orders than it can possibly supply. Handsome dividends have been declared by the Nevassa, and we doubt not the North Carolina Fertilizer Company, by the aid and influence of two hundred local citizens of the State, in different localities and interested in its operations, will be equally successful.

GEN. SCHOFIELD TO BE UN-TRAMMELED.

President Grant, the Secretary of War and Gen. Sherman have held a telegraphic consultation in which they agreed to leave the future policy of the Government towards the Modocs to General Schofield's discretion.

Unless more efficient officers are placed in command, there are more terrible surprises than the one recently reported in store for the troops.

ECCELESIASTICAL TROUBLES--REV. DR. RICHARD HINES CENSURED.

We publish to-day an article from the Memphis Avalanche, which we find in the Wilmington Journal, giving an account of the troubles in the Episcopal Church in Tennessee.

It will be seen that the Episcopal Convention censured Rev. Dr. Hines because of his refusal to speak to Bishop Quintard.

Dr. Hines gave his reasons for his conduct the next day in the Memphis Appeal, in an article published over his own name, and it was this publication that caused the vote of censure to be passed. The Wilmington Journal, alluding to the affair, says:

"We make the publication with regret, because no matter who may be right, or who may be wrong, the difficulty to which it relates must necessarily render unpleasant the position of one who has commanded our esteem and respect from boyhood. Dr. Hines is a native of North Carolina, a graduate of the University, and spent the first years of his ministry in the State. He was then, and is now honored and esteemed as a man and a minister; and it will be a matter of profound regret to his old friends out of the Episcopal Church, as well as those in it, that anything has occurred to mar the harmony so necessary to the proper relations between a clergyman and his Bishop.

We have had the pleasure of meeting Bishop Quintard, and it happens that we were introduced to him by Dr. Hines. Certainly we never met any one who was so much and so rapidly upon our affections as he did. He is one of those rare men whom it is ever a pleasure to remember. We sincerely trust that ere long it may be in our power to announce that perfectly pleasant relations have been restored."

ABOUT THE INDIANS.

Now that the Indians are upon the war-path, all facts relating to their condition and numbers in this country will be read with more than usual interest.

The following statement we find in one of our exchanges, and presume the figures are substantially correct, but no mention is made of the Indians in North Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, and other Southern States:

"There are probably some 370,000 Indians in this country, if we can rely upon the statistics of the Indian Bureau, of whom less than one-half are self-supporting, the balance being absolute pensioners of our government. This aggregate number is undoubtedly diminished annually, not alone from natural causes, but also from the desperate and reckless lives which they seem to follow instinctively. About 70,000 of these people are located in Alaska, and of the whole race about 90,000 live by marauding. The statistics of the department at Washington are undoubtedly correct, or nearly so, but we confess that we should have set the number much higher. We are informed by the department figures that about 25,000 of the race have severed all tribal connection, and reside in a civilized manner, among the whites. 150,000 are on reservations, so designated, and the balance are roaming from one wild section to another, ostensibly to support themselves by hunting, but too often as bandits. The following table shows how they are distributed in the States and Territories:

1. In Minnesota and States east of the Mississippi river,	30,500
2. Nebraska, Kansas and Indian Territory,	80,650
3. Dakota, Montana, Wyoming and Idaho,	65,000
4. Nevada and Territories of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Arizona,	84,000
5. California, Oregon and Washington,	47,850
Total,	308,000."

DEATH OF JNO. R. THOMPSON.

The dispatches to-day announce the death of John R. Thompson, which occurred in New York on yesterday.

Mr. Thompson is well known as a Southern author and poet. He is a native of Virginia, and was for a long time editor of the Southern Literary Messenger, published at Richmond, Virginia. He was an accomplished and gifted gentleman, and has written some of the most beautiful poems that adorn our literature.

At the time of his death, Mr. Thompson was in charge of the literary department of the New York Evening Post.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT OF THE N. C. ROAD.

We learn from a special dispatch to the Raleigh News this morning that Col. Thomas M. Holt, of Alamance, was elected yesterday at Salisbury, President of the North Carolina Railroad, in place of Major William A. Smith resigned.

This is a good selection. Col. Holt is well known throughout the State as an enterprising and popular gentleman, and his election will give general satisfaction.

"EVERYTHING AMERICAN IN CONFUSION."

Our dispatches to-day, in regard to the Vienna Exposition say that the Americans had a meeting and expressed great indignation because the American Commissioners have made no arrangements for the exhibition of the articles sent from this country. The dispatch adds that "everything American is in confusion."

Among the crowned heads and princes who are expected to grace with their presence the opening of the Vienna Exposition are the Emperors of Russia and Germany, the Shah of Persia, the Khedive of Egypt, the Prince Imperial of Germany and the Prince of Wales. Numerous other distinguished personages will also be present.

Gov. Walker of Virginia, Gov. Jacob of West Virginia, and Gov. Cooke of the District of Columbia, have all accepted the invitation of Governor Smith of Georgia, to be present at the Convention of Governors at Atlanta on the 20th of May.

Letters from Omaha give the details of the great snow-storm of the 13th, 14th and 15th ult., in Nebraska, showing it to have been the most terrible ever known, in depth of snow and violence of wind. They fully confirm the previous reports of the great fatality among settlers received by telegraph.

The Third Assistant Postmaster General Tuesday sent an order to the manufacturers for five millions of postal cards. The aggregate of the applications for them is so far twelve millions.

The Wilmington Star of the 30th says: "The late frost was very destructive along the line of the Charlotte road, especially in Richmond and Robeson. The fruit has been almost completely cut off while cotton will have to be replanted. An old gentleman at Snow Hill, who is a good judge of such matters, hazards the prediction, provided the result shall have been as disastrous elsewhere, that cotton will sell for 30 cents a pound next fall. He says the frost killed everything in that section but the grass and that will so outstrip the young cotton in growth, it being impossible to get rid of it, that the staple will not stand much of a chance. From present appearances, in that latitude, cotton will have to take a back seat and resign its kingly pretensions to some other product of the soil, provided Jack Frost has not made a clean sweep of everything pertaining to the vegetable kingdom."

The Charlotte Observer says that trains now run daily from Atlanta, Ga., to the eastern terminus of the Air Line road from Atlanta to Charlotte, a distance of twenty miles, leaving a gap in the whole road of only forty-five miles. The grading of this gap has nearly all been completed, and it is confidently believed that the road will be finished through from Charlotte to Atlanta by the 1st of July.

[Abridged from Memphis Avalanche, 24th. Ecclesiastical Troubles in Tennessee.—An Episcopal Minister Declines to Shake Hands with His Bishop, and is Censured by the State Convention.

For several years past a misunderstanding has existed between Right Rev. C. T. Quintard, bishop of the diocese of Tennessee, and Rev. Dr. Richard Hines, for several years rector of St. Mary's Church, now known as the Cathedral. The latter felt himself personally aggrieved by the course pursued by the Bishop with reference to him in several matters ecclesiastical, and though the existence of the difference was well known to the Memphis clergy and many of the laity, it was not until yesterday that the trouble got into the columns of the newspaper and became public property.

It appears that on Tuesday the Bishop met Dr. Hines, after the day's session of the State Convention now being held here, and with a view of effecting a reconciliation offered his hand. The overture was rejected, as explained by the following card, entitled "Personal," and printed in yesterday's Appeal: "Memphis, April 22, 1873.

"Reverend and Dear Sir:—Yesterday, immediately after the adjournment of the Convention, you came forward in the presence of several clergymen and addressed me more than once, and professed me your hand. You know, or ought to have known, that I would have no personal intercourse with you. I think you have betrayed the sacred friendship that existed on my part, and which I ignorantly believed existed on your part. At a personal interview, at which you presided, in a conference where the difficulty was a personal one between you and myself, when you have openly stated that you intended to act as if you were before the throne of God, you asked me to repeat a statement which I had made to the Rev. George C. Harris. I asked you if you desired to hear it, and you replied that you did. I then made the statement, which I re-affirmed, and asked you a direct question.

"After declining to answer the question which I asked you, you repeated your hands and retired, saying that you would have no ecclesiastical relationship with me. I know that you violated your contract with me. I am persuaded that you have injured my character and reputation; that you have violated all the ties of friendship, abused the high office you bear to my injury, and that you have not treated me as a father in God, a Christian, or a gentleman ought to be treated.

"I have no ill will toward you; I have no malice toward you; I would gladly minister to you were it necessary; but I have lost all confidence in you, and can by no act of mine leave the impression on your mind, or the mind of any other person, that I have confidence in you. You have destroyed that confidence, and until you are disposed to restore it, which by the grace of God you can easily do, you need not expect me to have any personal intercourse with you, while at all times I shall gladly respect the high and holy office which you hold.

"Truly yours,

"RICHARD HINES."

In the Episcopal State Convention, on the appearance of this card, the Bishop called attention to it, and a committee, appointed to consider the matter, reported the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the publication in the Appeal of this morning, signed by Right Rev. C. T. Quintard, and addressed to the Bishop of the Diocese, is indecorous and reprehensible in a high degree on the part of a member of this Convention, and this Convention declares its disapproval and condemnation of the course pursued by the Rev. Dr. Hines in this matter."

Mr. Jefferson Davis (ex-President) made a motion to lay the resolution on the table, stating that he would like to see Mr. Hines present and defend himself before any further action in this matter was taken.

One of the clergy informed Mr. Davis that the resolution was only intended to ensure that part of the conduct of Mr. Hines giving publicity to the matter which reflects upon the Church.

One of the committee also stated that one of their members had called on Mr. Hines, to whom he detailed his grievances, and said he would furnish the committee with a written statement, but would not call at that time.

A letter written by Bishop Quintard in February, 1872, addressed to Doctor Hines, was also read; the letter indicates a desire for a reconciliation and offering an apology for past mistreatment, if any had been given.

The motion to lay the resolution on the table was lost.

A motion to adopt the resolution was carried.

I write you to certify that I have used DR. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR in my family with complete success.
